THE WILLIAMS FAMILY

DAVIS WILLIAMS, the first of this family in America, came from Wales to Rhode Island. His wife's name was Esther _____, and they had four sons, - Israel, Davis Jr., Singleton and Barzilla. We can safely assume that the family of Davis Williams, with three sons, Israel, Davis Jr. and Singleton, was living in Groton, Conn. in 1775, for we know that Barzilla was born at Groton, Conn., and was of an age at death that places his birth in the year 1775. None of the above names appear in the 1790 census reports of either Rhode Island or Connecticut. When that same census was taken in Vermont, actually in 1791, shortly after that state was admitted to the Union, it shows them to have been in Guilford. Israel, born in 1760, was then 31 years of age. Barzilla was but 15 years of age, so he was the one member of the family under 16 years of age.

The town of Guilford, Vermont, first Vermont home of the Davis Williams family, was settled in 1761. When the state's first census was taken, in 1791, that historic town had 2422 inhabitants, - a greater population than any other Vermont community. It outranked Bennington and many other towns that were settled long before Guilford.

The charter for the town of Guilford was issued by the King of England, and it was in such form as to make it practically an independent republic without being under the authority of any royal governor, like Governor Wentworth of New Hampshire. In fact, the Guilford charter made its proprietors and inhabitants amenable only to the far-away King of England. That unusual charter, the only one of its kind ever afforded a Vermont town, was dated 2 April 1754, and it named Elijah Williams as chief grantee.

Probably Elijah Williams lived in Greenfield, Mass. The first proprietors meeting of the Guilford grantees was held at Greenfield on 16 Dec. 1762. Such meetings were usually held where most convenient for the chief grantee or others chiefly concerned. At that meeting, Elijah Williams acted as moderator, in accordance with the custom that he so act if present as chief grantee.

Besides Elijah Williams, the Guilford charter also named Samuel Williams as a grantee, and apparently this is the same Samuel Williams who moved to Guilford and acted as moderator of its first town meeting on 19 May 1772. At the same meeting, Daniel Williams was elected a constable, and Othniel Williams was chosen as an assessor. In the census of 1790, a man named Othmel Williams was listed as the head of a family of seven at Chester, Vermont, and it is possible that he was the same man elected a Guilford assessor eighteen years before.

Apparently Israel Williams was the first member of the family to pioneer into northern Vermont and vicinity. We know that he moved from Guilford, Vermont to Stanstead, Quebec, just over the Vermont border, about 1800. Twelve or thirteen years later we find him and his sons as residents of Derby, Vermont, but apparently not until Israel's brother, Barzilla, had arrived there as an early resident.

I. ISRAEL WILLIAMS was born 27 Aug. 1760; m. Mary Collins, who was born 6 Sept. 1772 and died 26 Nov. 1857. Apparently he was living alone in Guilford, Vt. when the 1791 census was taken. He came to Stanstead, Que., in 1809, and settled on No. 3, 6th Range, near Glines Corner. During the War of 1812 his sons were drafted into the British Army, but not wishing to serve on that side of the cause, they came to Derby. One son, Joel, returned to Canada after the war, remained for a time, then came back to Derby and built on the farm later owned by his son, Sylvester, where he remained until his death.
